

We Are Living through the Big Switch

When Liberals hear that Republicans are the party of Lincoln and freed the slaves and gave Blacks the right to vote, the response is: “There was a big switch between the parties.”

Dinesh D'Souza explains that the “Big Switch” was due to the New Deal and not civil rights. But that becomes a history lesson, and elections are not won with history lessons.

Elections are won, when it is clear that the voter’s do not believe the narrative that they themselves are spewing.

Example: “Hydroxychloroquine”
Avoid the argument that it is a treatment or cure. Keep it focused on censorship. “Do you agree that government and social media should suppress discussion of medical treatments that they disagree with?”

“Do you agree that people should be banned from Facebook and Twitter for discussing alternatives such as homeopathics and vitamin treatments?”

Most vegans and vegetarians are Democrats. When did they create: “Vegans for Vaccines” and “Vegetarians for Big Pharma?”

When did Republicans become the anti-vaccine party, while Democrats promote “mandatory vaccines... no exceptions?”

A key question to ask liberals and leftists:

“Are you okay with destroying YOUR way of life just to defeat Donald Trump in November?”

They may say: “We have to get rid of Trump, no matter the cost.”

Ask them if this includes: Losing their job? Losing their retirement? Losing their investments? Having rioting and looting in their neighborhood? Total government control over their life? Being alone in the hospital if they get sick? No right to go to church or synagogue or mosque? No right to tell the government: NO?

Right now we have seen what happens when the government controls everything about your life. Do you want them to continue to have this power?
