

DeSantis Out-Trump's Trump Over Disney

This story is so hot it gets a special Thursday edition of Alan's One Minute Issue.

"What the "F" did you do?" Is being asked by every Disney Board member to the CEO. "What the "F" did you do?"

In the blink of an eye, Disney World will lose a special Florida exemption which keeps zoning boards, city inspectors, county commissioners, tax appraisers, local taxes, building permits, fire marshals, and every conceivable local regulator out of everything Disney in Central Florida.

Everyone is reporting that eliminating Disney World's special district is in retaliation for Disney opposing the: "Don't Say Gay Law." That's the red herring. The real issue is that Disney capitulated to a group of WOKE, anti-capitalist employees, and announced that they would not make political contributions in Florida.

Everyone knows that huge companies have to make campaign contributions to keep on the good side of politicians, especially when one party has a super-majority like Florida.

A lobbying behemoth like Disney withholding campaign contributions in an election year sends a message to other companies, and these politicians who control the state cannot allow it. DeSantis is sending a loud and clear message to other corporations: "Don't Even Think About It."

The speed at which this Disney taxation bill is being passed is making corporate heads spin. The bill was first mentioned last week and will receive final legislative approval TODAY.

This is Ron DeSantis putting a horse's head in the bed of the Disney CEO and making sure that every company in America knows that DeSantis put it there.

Donald Trump taught Republicans how to fight. Ron DeSantis is taking it to a whole new level.
