

Kansas Abortion Vote..... “The Middle” Wins

When Roe was overturned, I warned that “The Middle” was going to weigh in, and if you do not want to move backward, the Pro-Life side would have to compromise with “The Middle.”

“The Middle” in Kansas has spoken, and decided not to change the abortion laws. Pro-life is claiming the commercials were untrue, but this is politics, where winning is everything.

Giving abortion back to the states, means, both sides have to compete for “The Middle,” who was excluded from the conversation for 50 years.

If Pro-Life becomes unreasonable, then “The Middle” will support the crazy left. I understand that murder is murder, but this will not eliminate abortion. I suggest creating legislative proposals that have the best chance of passing.

Democrats are voting for Republicans in the hope of giving us weaker November candidates. Please reach out to your primary winners and beg them to stop saying “widespread voter fraud cost Donald Trump.”

The media and almost every Democrat will tag you: “Insane Loser.”

Simply ask: “What would have been the result had election rules not changed because of COVID?” That usually ends the conversation

Too many party activists are politically naïve?

Palm Beach County Florida has 9 state house seats, only 2 are currently held by Republicans. In one purple district, Republican Mike Caruso won the seat by 32 votes in 2018. In 2020 distancing from Donald Trump and not attacking mask mandates, he moved his margin of victory from 32 votes to 10% which is huge.

Redistricting has him in an R+4 district. Republican activists label him a RINO, yet his voting record is nearly identical to the other Palm Beach County Republican representative, who is not considered a RINO...

But the Republican activists only care that he told his pro mask constituency in 2020 that he agreed with them. His voting record was un-important.

When new districts were being drawn and the likelihood increased that he would run in a Republican district, he said the following about masks:

“But Rep. Mike Caruso, R-Delray Beach, defended the prohibition on school mask requirements.

“I sit there and I question our school boards for mandating masks for our children,” Caruso said. “They say ‘Well, physically, it’s going to protect them from the (virus),’ when they fail to recognize the mental health issues that masks cause.” (WUSF 11/18/21)

The activists challenging Caruso did not mention this. They only point to the statement 2 years earlier.

And this my friends is another way Republicans snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

(Full disclosure- I have contributed to the Caruso campaign)

Q) What do you call someone that enjoys watching people suffer?

A) Liberal

I was asked by a Republican candidate running adjacent to the district which had the school massacre a few years ago: “What 2-A positions can they can take? Red Flag in Florida was passed in reaction to the Parkland shootings. Its is here to stay.

My suggestion was:

If states now pay for lawyers for illegals being deported, why can’t the state pay for the lawyer for a gun owner to get his gun back after being red flagged? The lawyer can also defend the gun owner in court.”

The court system is not designed for self-represented defendants. If illegals can have state compensated counsel, so can gun owners.
