

GOP Lost Because of Rush Limbaugh

I told you that we will miss Rush Limbaugh and his passing was going to hurt us. We should calculate 4% or more for the Limbaugh factor. Although those trying to fill his shoes are adequate, they are not Rush Limbaugh.

Trump listened to Rush. Rush explained the issues and Republicans understood the issues after Limbaugh's explanations.

Limbaugh was able to keep Republicans from going off the reservation. If a Senator or Congressman was going to make a dumb vote Limbaugh explained the issue and even though there was no call to action, his listeners would flood switchboards and emails.

If a candidate was acting crazy, pressure from Limbaugh could put them back on the tracks.

While Rush did not endorse in primaries, he would give excellent analysis about the candidates.

If Limbaugh was still here, McConnell's switchboard would've been flooded with 25 million Republicans screaming about using money earmarked for close races to help Murkowski beat a fellow Republican.

Limbaugh is the reason Donald Trump was elected. Limbaugh explained Trump when no one else could.

I listened to Limbaugh for 30 years. The fact that we never took the time to figure out who would take up the mantle in Rush's absence, is again part of not doing a postmortem of 2020..

I am not going to opine now on DeSantis V Trump.

It's about time Republicans finally had a conversation about "Whose fault is it?" This should have been done 2 years ago, but the loss was all blamed on cheating, with no deep dive as to what the campaigns, the parties etc. could have done to improve or even change the results.

One of the reasons as I said we never did this is because no one wanted to tell President Trump that he did anything wrong. So we basically played the same hand in 2022 that we played in 2020, while the Democrats learned from 2020.

Last week I teased the job Trump really wants instead of being President.

This will be offered by any other Republican President.

Future GOP POTUS to Trump.....President Trump... In my administration you can take any job that you wish and you will have totally autonomy and control and power to do the job.

My belief is "Clean the swamp" is the best job for you. This job cannot be accomplished inside the Oval Office.

To give you an added incentive you will be authorized to go to any federal agency including the Pentagon, meet with any federal employee or contractor and even if a four-star general or cabinet secretary and you will be authorized to fire them on the spot.

And to make it more interesting you can have a full film crew and you will be able to put this on primetime. You will get all revenue from the TV show.

One of the reasons why I write my column is so my thoughts and predictions are made part of the public discourse, in effect my permanent record.

I wrote the following months before the Roe decision was leaked:

"Every woman of childbearing age right now, was born into a constitutional right of choice. Many of these women choose life, BUT, they would be appalled if that constitutional right were taken away from them."

AND
"So please, I know you can taste victory, but sometimes the devil looks like he is doing the Lords work, when in reality the devil is setting the devil up for success."

I also wrote after Dobbs was published:

What will affect votes is the future actions Congress and the States undertake?.

Try to make it illegal to leave the state for abortion, or block the mailing of abortion drugs or promoting late-term abortion and people in the middle will start weighing in.

Candidates could not resist, believing there was a red wave overplaying the right to life card. Why these candidates ran far right in the primaries , the Democrats put money in, pushed the anti-abortion stance that Republican candidates would destroy their lives.

Alan had TWO RULES:
Keep Trump and abortion off the 2022 ballot. How hard could that be?

Medicare Open Enrollment Is in Full Swing

Until December 7, you can make changes to Medicare plans, go back to original Medicare, or choose a new plan.

I am able to help seniors across the United States.

I get so angry. A reader called me after they had extensive dental work. They did not know that the current company had another plan with large dental benefits.

Their attitude.... "I've had the same policy for 10 years."

Insurance companies create new product to stay competitive. Had t client callrd me first, they would be $7000 richer . Folks don't assume, call me.

Also with inflation eating away your budget and nest egg, what was a good strategy last year may not be a good strategy for next year.
