

Upset about SCOTUS Student Loans? Take a Civics Class

Was out of town for a few days, so this is going out on Thursday instead of Tuesday. Apologies for the delay.

Articles and videos keep popping up of millennial's crying because of the Supreme Court student loan decision. "I don't understand? No one can explain it to me," is a common quote.

Let me make it simple: "No one with any common sense believed the court would allow the student loan write-off to go through. If you had taken civics classes, instead of queer theory, you would have known this. But, the DEMs keep you dumb, and make promises they have no intention of keeping, and you keep voting for them.

When will you woke up?

Besides not understanding civics, you do not understand math. The article points out that you are $165,000 in debt and you claim that without the Biden loan write-off, you will not be able to pay your student loans. Hint.... Even with the Biden loan write-off you cannot pay your student loans . $165,000 loan over 10 years at 6% has a payment of $1832. If the $20,000 was deducted, your payment would be $1610. Still not affordable when working at an Amazon warehouse.

Remember Trump went from losing by 3 million popular votes in 2016 to losing by 8 million popular votes in 2020. Can you articulate his game plan to achieve a different result in 2024? If you can, please send it to me.

I will continue to say that the anti-RINO Republicans allow Democrats to win elections. In election campaigns, you must form coalitions, which means alliances of people that do not agree with each other. Democrats are really good at this because they know that winning is everything.

There is no word for: "Democrat in Name Only." When hard-core Republicans understand that they have zero chance without the RINO vote, we might win elections again.

Diehard Trump supporters (MAGA 2020, I call them) keep talking about Trump's great economic record during his presidency. They delete the COVID year of 2020.

Bush 43 had a good economy for almost 8 years. But October 2008 came , the economy crashed, banks and insurance companies received bailouts and Barak Obama had an easy victory. A good economy for 95% of Bush's presidency was not enough.

Bill Clinton had a great economy because of Newt Gingrich's balanced-budget. And yet, Al Gore ran away from Clinton's economy in 2000 because it was on a downhill slide. Almost 8 years of good economy could not get Al Gore elected because of the downturn at the end of the Clinton administration.

Presidents are judged by the last day they left office. Thus Trump is judged on the economy on January 20, 2021.

Yes...COVID killed the economy but if you have to explain it, you have already lost.

DeSantis gave a great quote: "I'm running to win in January and February not to juice the polling now." The leftist media is trying to write the DeSantis obituary, but he has not started to fight yet. Fact is, with record heat, only political junkies are paying attention.

Why Trump can't win a general election? He will not change his playbook. His campaign message is: "The special counsel is thug."

DeSantis message will be: "Men with penises do not belong in little girls locker rooms."

Which message will resonate with middle America?

Disney World's July 4th attendance was down because they are at war with their customer base. The media is trying to blame DeSantis, BUT, the parents no longer trust Disney. The much ballyhooed Disney customer service, the Gold Standard for any industry has crashed wildly.

Walt Disney is turning over in his grave over how badly his dream has deteriorated. At some point senior executive heads will have to roll.

Biden to seriously restrict short-term medical insurance plans. These plans are not Obamacare compliant, and not subsidized, but can offer low-cost alternatives to Americans that cannot receive subsidies due to income or other reasons such as filing tax returns separately.

Obama made the plans almost illegal. Trump reversed the Obama rules and Biden is reversing the Trump rules. These rules will become effective in the next few months.

As you know health insurance is my profession and I have been at it a long time. If you pay for your health insurance please give me a call, my number is in the ad on the next page. Time is running out.
