

DeSantisWhat Does He Have To Lose?

By: Alan J. Huber CFP®

855 561 0500

The "Listless Vessel" was probably well thought out. DeSantis realizes he has to go after the Trump supporters. There is no other path and half of them can be pulled away, if they think Trump will tank the November election.

"Listless Vessel" passes the t-shirt test. It's not: "Deplorable." You have to explain it. It's hard to remember and you're not sure what it means. Most important, it's only going to resonate with the base so it does not hurt him in the future, if he can get past the primary.

As to those that say his political career is over and we will no longer support him? Newsflash....He was re-elected and he understands he has no chance in 2028. He either wins the nomination or is done in electoral politics.

So what does he have to lose?

Incumbent Florida legislators are already calculating losing their supermajority in 2024. That tells you how excited Florida is about Trump.

Simple Messaging:
Will you support Trump if he is the Republican nominee?

When Trump promises to support the Republican nominee, so will I.

There can only be one goal? WIN the White House, House, and Senate.

There can only be one question? HOW?

The answer to this question determines the future of the country.

I'm Donald Trump. I won 2020 Bigley. Vote for me in 2024 to correct this wrong.

Are there any polls showing how effective this will be in November?

Trump supporters in Florida, who ALL voted for DeSantis, say DeSantis should do something about the property insurance problem. He did, in both the special session and regular session and as result a number of insurance companies are coming into the Florida market to stabilize and then lower rates.

Expect the Trump case in Georgia to be removed to federal court. I am not a lawyer, but I have personally been involved in this process.

Trump's lawyers will file a "Notice of Removal." The DA will file a motion in federal court to remand the case back to the state. Unlike the Stormy Daniels case, where removal was denied, Trump's argument will be: this was part of his duties as president is persuasive. I believe it is appealable.

Hearing the case in federal court is not a guaranteed win, but it does level out the jury pool.

A dear friend received a horrible knock on the door a number of years ago. She opened the door and the police informed her that her daughter was killed in a motor vehicle accident. She said from that moment on, a part of her was frozen in that spot at the door. She had PTSD.

I believe President Trump, the greatest president we've ever had, may be suffering from PTSD, because his advisors made it very clear there was no way he was going to lose the 2020 election. That loss must've come as a total shock to him.

Many of us on the ground were predicting the loss, but the campaign did not change their ways. This information was kept from Trump.

Trump is consistently saying he won 2020 while every poll says that focusing on that claim will be a disastrous approach for 2024. Is it possible he has PTSD about the election?

A Massachusetts couple has been denied the right to foster children because they go to church and believe that marriage between a man and a man is a sin. This should be the headline, not Trump's 4th indictment.

This is classic.

Me: Why should I support Donald Trump?

Them: Because he is so far ahead in the polls

Me: What about the polls showing he has no chance of winning the general election.

Them: It's too far away, you know these polls are not accurate.

64% of Americans say they will certainly not OR most likely not vote for Donald Trump in 2024.

Everybody says look at 2020

I understand in Michigan, the Trump supporters have taken over the party. Called everyone not supporting Trump, a RINO, and fundraising is totally lacking.

It's not 2020 people. Nothing is the same..

The E. Jean Carroll defamation case goes to trial in January. He is being sued for his comments after losing a sex abuse civil case. Even though it is a civil case, the media will report this as Donald Trump has been convicted of sexual abuse again.

Please tell me how we win?

Tips to losing an election:

- 1) Focus on Trump's legal issues
- 2) Use campaign contributions to pay lawyers
- 3) Make banning a so-called abortion pills a center of the campaign

If there is no way that Trump loses the primary and no way he can win the general.....Why should I bother voting?

Between Trump and the Democrats, they have spent $20 million attacking DeSantis. NO other candidate comes close. The fact that he is still standing is a testament

This is what should scare every Republican.

Trump is currently at the top of his popularity. Maybe he goes up 1-2 points over next 3 months.

Then the trials and hearings start. Once he is a clear nominee the Democrats will start running commercials against him.

You really think he will have higher approvals when every negative from his court cases is the only things 2/3 of the voters will ever hear?

Alan's Meme Of The Week:

Husband: "What would you do if I won the lottery?"

Wife: "I would take half of the money and leave you."

Husband: "I won $12. Here is your half. Good luck."

Sponsored message

Need Information on Health Insurance or Medicare Plans

Joe Biden is taking your options away.

If you pay for your health insurance without subsidies, your plan may disappear soon.

Once final rules are made, you may be S.O.L.

Contact Alan to discuss your options, before they disappear.

Alan is licensed in most US States.

Call Alan at 855-561-0500 or email Alan@HealthPlansMadeSimple.com

CA 338458

Alan's One Minute Issue™ is written by Alan J Huber CFP®, to help right-minded individuals win their arguments with wrong-minded individuals. Alan is available to speak, at: GOP events, Trump clubs and Conservative meetings across the country. Alan is a licensed insurance agent.

Call 855 561 0500 or

Alan@GOPMadeSimple.com

Medicare Required Disclosure

"We do not offer every plan available in your area. Any information we provide is limited to those plans we do offer in your area.

Please contact Medicare.gov or 1-800-MEDICARE to get information on all your options."