

GOP Primaries are Over

As I wrote months ago, "Donald Trump is our nominee."

Nikki Haley says Trump is not as sharp as he was in 2016. That may or may not be true, but the Republican voters decided Donald Trump did not have to jump through many hoops. He was not forced to debate or answer serious questions.

The Republican voters decided that Trump was wronged in 2020, thus they are giving him a do-over. I really wish they would've put him through an obstacle course instead of going right to a coronation.

We never asked what Trump did wrong in 2020 and why the red wave did not materialize in 2022. So how do we fix the problems we never diagnosed?

The following is a very profound original thought:

"Joe Biden has no control over the 2024 election results.."

Nothing he does will alter the result. Donald Trump's actions will determine the winner and loser. If Trump runs smart, he will win. If he runs a bad campaign, he will lose. Biden is irrelevant,

Why? Because Biden's world is crashing down. The economy will go to hell. He will get more feeble as the a campaign goes on. The world will become more dangerous and the Democratic Party will fracture further.

Will Trump capitalize?

Why did Ron DeSantis lose? Because he ran a traditional presidential primary campaign against the non-traditional opponent of Donald Trump.

DeSantis' campaign was fought in Iowa. He needed to convince the Republicans in Florida that he was a better candidate than Donald Trump.

He did not do that. Had he convinced Florida's Republicans to support him, that support would have flowed across the entire country.

When DeSantis dropped in the polls in Florida against Trump, it was all over.

Remember the speech I wrote that DeSantis should have given and run on: "I have done everything possible for the citizens of Florida. Every problem that we face now is a national problem that can only be solved from the Oval Office. Therefore I have no choice but to run for president of the United States."

I hope Trump limits his rallies. Rallies worked in 2016 and did not work in 2020. I stopped going to rallies because of the Fox News style sound trucks with talking heads in a studio type trailer near the front of the rally making it impossible for the fans waiting online to hear each other talk. In 2016 it was the people waiting inline that brought the tire kickers over to our side.

Maybe Trump should try a game show style, format instead of rallies in Democrat areas? Members of the audience are asked questions and given real prizes. Give out $20,000 per rally and televise it and you will get traction among young people.

Questions:

Which party founded the KKK? What was Abraham Lincoln's party? Which party supported the Voting Rights Act? That's how you run a non-traditional campaign.

Let me explain the Chevron Deference which is awaiting a SCOTUS ruling.

Congress passes a law that they want Americans to be healthy and sets up the Department Of Health and Human Services. HHS decides that banning cars will make America healthier. The Chevron Doctrine says that the courts can not get involved. They have to defer to the administrative agency as to Congress' intent.

If Chevron is overturned then the courts can step in and say that administrative agencies are coloring outside the lines and need to be reined in.

Sports Illustrated fired all staff. Do you think having swimsuit issues with super plus size women with fat hanging over or trans encourages America to buy the magazine??
