

It's Time for the Twenty Fifth Amendment

This will take longer than one minute to read, but it's worth it.

I called the Supreme Court 100% correct. Donald Trump has immunity for some actions, and for the rest the lower court has to make a determination which will require more hearings and therefore there is no way this case gets decided before the election.

I think the Atlanta RICO case also disappears, although that case was going down on the appeal of Fani Willis because the appellate court was definitely going to take her out of the running.

It will take about two weeks to figure out if Biden is in or out. We have the holiday coming up, people out of town but the week after they'll figure it out if he stays or goes.

The family wants Joe to stay in. They need him so they can continue to collect bags of cash. Jill likes being in control.

If they pull Joe and run anyone else besides Kamala, they cannot transfer the money very easily, if at all.

I think there are some immunity issues in the Trump document case, because he sent himself the documents before his term expired. That case is falling apart on its own and also will not be heard before the election.

I think at a minimum the sentencing is going to be delayed in New York because they have to study the ruling to see if the New York case is affected, and with the holiday there is no way to do it before July 11th.

If they try to replace Biden the Republicans have to have one talking point: "If he can't be re-elected then he can't be president."

A man that is incompetent cannot hold the highest office in the land, and must be removed via the 25th Amendment making Kamala the president and presumed nominee. Of course this does not sit well with the family who would be out of power.

A coffee shop has three stores and the employees voted for a union. The owner said: "we cannot handle the legal expenses of a union, so we closed our doors."

The employees were all in shock. I will tell you that they are also a group of freaks and weirdos. The employer was trying to do his best, but they pushed him too far.

Trump held a rally in Philadelphia. Again a good move. A rally in the heart of the beast is the best thing Trump can do and Biden can't counter, because he cannot draw a crowd.

SEC vs Jarkesy – I do not think this case is getting the press it deserves because people have not tied it to Donald Trump yet.

The court has basically ruled that in civil suits from government agencies, a jury trial is mandatory. Because this was done on constitutional grounds I believe it would apply to Trump's New York case which is civil fraud. He was denied a jury on this and I don't believe that would be legal.

SYLVIA GONZALEZ, v. EDWARD TREVINO, II,- There's another case that was decided by the Supreme Court. If Donald Trump could get his case overturned in New York he actually has lawful grounds to bring a suit for the illegal arrest even though there was probable cause.

The case is technical and I will not go into details, but payback could be hell, when it is Trump's turn to get even.

I don't have to tell you how bad Biden did in the debate. Everyone knows it.

Judge Cannon wants a hearing on piercing of attorney-client privilege in the documents case. An anti-Trump judge not in Florida said that Trump's attorney must testify against Trump.

Cannon is not buying it, and requesting an evidentiary hearing on this. This is the issue that can lead to the dismissal of the document case.

CNN Poll after the debate. Who won? 67% Trump. 33% Biden. In 2020, results were: 53% Biden 39% Trump.

The Supreme Court overruled the Chevron Doctrine. This is a major ruling as it gives the court's permission to look at federal regulations and not defer to the Administrative Agency on them. Congress will have to write better laws because of this ruling.

And the Supreme Court ruled that January 6 defendants, where the government used an Enron era ruling to overcharge them, has to re-sentence them.

This also affects Trump's prosecution.

The case has been remanded back to the lower courts.

Even though Joe Biden raised $27 million after the debate, the Democrat donors are closing their wallets. Without money he'll be unable to continue effectively, but he is the only person that can take himself out.

Pulling Biden off the ballot is not that easy in some states.

Wisconsin has rule that allows changes until the 4th Friday in June unless you are mentally unable to proceed. Georgia is 60 days before the election. The longer they take to make a decision, the harder it will be to implement.

Trump's debate performance was perfect. He was calm, he wasn't crazy and the MSM will say that he lied all the time. Reality is he didn't lie, and Trump can be very proud of how his performance was.

Judge Merchan may think he's the only person in the world that can save the presidency by restricting Trump to jail or house arrest or something similar.

"Do not interrupt your enemy when they are destroying themselves."

Donald Trump learned this and was disciplined in the debate.

The Fischer case means that Trump's January 6th case is getting postponed and the DOJ has to re-sentence a whole bunch of defendants.

The MSM Had their marching orders: "Trump Lied," But Biden was so bad, that he became the story and Trump's lies don't go anywhere.

Israel has done a masterful job of neutralizing and capturing Hamas operatives in Gaza. It looks they are down to the last battalion.
