Job growth in the last year revised downward 818,000 jobs. They were cooking the books.

The polls are wrong. According to Rush Limbaugh, a few months out, they manipulate the polls to tamp down Republican votes.

Every single man on the street interview has every minority group supporting Trump, except, college educated women.

We fight like we are 5 points down, but in the last two weeks the polls will have to come down to Earth because nobody wants to be that wrong.

Obama skewered Trump in his speech. Instead of Trump taking shots at Obama, which is what he would normally do, Trump said "I like him personally." He's finally realizing Kamala is the enemy, and no one else.

According to: "National Review," Alvin Bragg's letter to Judge Merchan not only said we don't want to weigh in on whether sentencing should be delayed, but they said that we introduced evidence that was excluded by the Supreme Court decision and therefore we think that the sentencing needs to be delayed. That means Merchan will be all alone if he pushes for September 18th sentencing.

Trump is doing everything right. He is no longer attacking Brian Kemp. Kemp is no longer the enemy. Trump realizes there's one enemy and it's Kamala and if he does not focus on her he will lose.

Democrats made a huge mistake with Beyonce at the DNC. They scored 26.8 million people but many of them are mad because she was not even booked to sing or speak

When something like this happens The People Magazine audience has to ask: "What else are they lying about?"

I said Donald Trump had something planned for the DNC, and he really came through. The RFK Jr, endorsement was huge, especially because in the 10 swing states RFK is off the ballot, but in the other states, he's still on. He may pull enough votes to make a state like New Jersey competitive.

If you listen to the RFK speech, he's really passionate about the fact that our food supply is poisoning people. He's also anti-vaccine. I think HHS secretary is the perfect place for him.

RFK said 75% of Americans are obese. He said 50% of children are obese. In Japan the number is 3%. That's amazing.

Mia Farrow: "I knew Bobby Kennedy well enough to know that he would be devastated to know that his son supports a candidate who is the antithesis of every value he stood for."

Response- Your judgment in men is so good, the man you were living with, married your adopted daughter.

Democrat mail in requests : Philadelphia 2020 = 129,652. In 2024 it's 92,824. Similar numbers for Pittsburgh.

Republicans have passed over 150,000 poll workers and watchers for 2024.

Kamla speech had a half a million viewers more than Trump. But at Trump's speech, they were not expecting Beyonce.

Texas has purged 1.1 million from their voter rolls. This includes 6,500 non citizens.

Israel launched a preemptive attack on Hezbollah knocking out their missile sites. Hezbollah launched some drones and rockets which was intercepted by Iron Dome.

They did blow up a chicken coop however. Hezbollah says we are even for you killing our top commanders. That's how things are done in the Middle East.

Mark Zuckerberg has admitted to Jim Jordan the House Judiciary Chair, that Facebook was pressured by the Biden / Harris administration to censor content.

This story just broke and more next week.

Wisconsin Supreme Court says Green Party candidate Jill Stein will remain on the ballot.

The Democrats tried to knock her off, but it did not happen. More good news for Trump.

Meme of the Week

Wife: "I didn't say anything yet."

Husband: "I know. I'm just trying to save time."
