

DC Circuit: Employment Decisions are not for District Courts to Decide

If Trump would have cleaned house in his first term like he's doing now, then when COVID came, he would have been in the position of solving Covid in two to three months.

One must remember that this is the importance of surrounding yourself with loyalists.

Trump has deported 66,000 illegal aliens in 100 days.

The US is saying that they will attack Iran if it continues to support the Houthis. This is promising.

On Holocaust Remembrance Day one must remember that 85% of the 6 million Jews who were killed were Yiddish speakers. The Nazis were successful in destroying a language but thankfully in some Orthodox sects, Yiddish is making a comeback.

I think Trump has a shorter time frame because he's a one-term president. I really think by March of next year everything will be baked in so he has very little time to turn it around. He's got to do something with a tariffs, sooner than later.

Syria says they are interested in joining the Abraham Accords. We shall see.

I'm not sure the female pilot who was flying the helicopter didn't do it purposely. She was told by her male instructor / copilot to turn the craft to avoid a collision and she ignored him.

The Democratic saviors: The guy in El Salvador. The guy from Colombia University. The kid who stabbed the other kid to death.

Lindsey Graham has a congressional bill with 60 Co-sponsors to put sanctions on Russia. This is the US not playing games and a Democrats have to support it because they've come out against Russia.

The rare earth minerals deal with Ukraine gives the United States a 50% credit, that will be spent on military. So at least we're getting our money back for the military aid.

Trump is trying to say it is Joe Biden's economy. But when the stock market went up, Trump said that is was because he won the election. That made it his economy. He can't have it both ways.

China looks like they're ready to start dealing with the United States because their factories are at a 6-month low and slowing down. The tariffs are working against them, but there's a limit of time that they can deal in.

It appears that the workers in China are starting to make noise in the streets. Because they're a communist country, we don't get the full truth of what is going on there.

I told you that even though I wasn't sure what was going on, I trusted Trump. Now I have it. He's putting the pressure on China by running the tariffs during their Christmas season. If you want to get things to the United States by October – November, they have to be ordered now. Then he says: "If you buy oil from Iran, you can't do business in the United States and we will have secondary sanctions. Who buys 90% of the oil from Iran? China!

NPR and PBS are required by law to be non-partisan. Trump's Executive Order said, because you're not non-partisan, you're not getting any money.

When I was a kid, my mom's dinner had only two options: "Take It or Leave It."

In a sign of who is winning the fight, America or China. 40,000 Chinese Nationals have been waiting to be deported. China has now agreed to accept them. America winning.

Allegedly, Elon Musk has paid $11 billion in federal taxes in the past 3 years.

Trump's post of an AI picture of himself as Pope, throwing his hat in the ring. It is quite funny but not to the atheist or offended or MSM.

The government is now employing a one strike and you're out policy for people here on visas. One violation of the law and you're gone. I think that makes a lot of sense.

Antarctica ice has gained mass between 2021 and 2023, a dramatic reversal from decades of loss.

Another airplane story. A woman pays for two seats. A mother and her 18 month old infant are in the aisle. The mother puts the infant in the middle and the woman says no. The flight attendants tell the mother that the baby has to be in her lap. End of story. Why is this newsworthy?

Why aren't kids in the hood transitioning to the opposite sex?

The typical demographic is upper middle class white kids from progressive parents. This allows them to move from the oppressor class to the oppressed class. It's that simple.

Bill Maher: "The inclination from certain liberals to always and immediately excommunicate instead of communicate is what makes them so unlikable. "

I want to remind people of Alan's rule of debate: When debating a liberal, be the first one to say: "You're a fascist."

The liberal DC Circuit Court of Appeals, handed a big ruling down which effectively said employment decisions are not for district courts to decide. It could be appealed to the full circuit or the Supreme Court, but for now: take the win.

The court also ruled that parties bringing the lawsuits, have to post a bond. It is not discretionary. Many of the lawsuits are brought in DC.

Golda Meir: " You cannot negotiate peace with somebody who has come to kill you."

A Houthi ballistic missile, struck Ben-Gurion airport in Tel Aviv. It hit a place with no people. Look for Israel's response to be an attack on Iran.

In the '70s Golda Meir said: "Right now there is no Jewish refugee problem. The Jews solved their refugee problem and the Arabs refused to solve theirs.

According to President Trump the Houthi's have decided they didn't want to fight anymore. I guess blowing up the airport, the port and the power plants by Israel helped them see the light. We should have Red Sea shipping available immediately. This will be another campaign promise Trump kept and Israel was responsible for.

The federal government does not track data on what majors people are taking in college, that are being funded by student loans. Do you think that might be an important question to ask?
