I will be traveling next week, so I will not be putting out a newsletter. Enjoy Labor Day everyone

Rasmussen reports that 57% of likely voters say they approve of Trump's decisions. 34% disapprove. A new high.

A judge in Texas reversed a Biden era regulations that would limit compensation to wholesalers in Medicare Advantage plans. This is typical of the federal government, not understanding why things happen. The wholesalers provide the agents many benefits that we need, such as computer systems. Using each company portal makes comparing companies a mess and the reason they did this is to let the little guy have access. The problem is the minute you take away the computer systems, then we only deal with the big companies, defeating the purpose. This concept is typical of how the federal government works. I understand that this is technical, but I wanted you to know.

Older people that talk about themselves, it's usually because their universe has shrunk and that's all that is left. It's very important, as you get older, to have many interests. Loneliness a horrible disease.

Section 8 housing. It pays people's rents and therefore may be the biggest benefit people on government services for the indigent receive. The government is updating rules so that people will be notified that they cannot be on Section 8 for longer than 2 years. If you've been on section 8 longer than 2 years, you will be cut off.

When Obamacare was created, it was not designed to cover everybody's health insurance premium. During Covid, Biden expanded the subsidies so he people making a lot of money could still get a subsidy

Trump is going back to the Obama rules, and people are bitching.

Everybody loves free health insurance, as long as they don't have to pay for it, but the taxpayer pays for it, or it goes on our tab, and we can no longer afford it.

A 6-year-old student is being deported along with her mother. This will cause a serious dampening of her learning ability, says the liberals. She should not be in our country along with her mother, regardless of her age.

Is the standard to go to heaven higher for someone like the president or a world leader, then for the average Joe? Maybe it is? If Trump can stop Russia and Ukraine, that's 7,000 people a week not needlessly killed. A president that saves millions might go to heaven and a president that doesn't save anyone, might not. Interesting thought.

A Federal Appeals Court gave the Trump administration a big win, removing temporary protective status of individuals from Nepal, Honduras and Nicaragua. I told you the fight is at the appellate level, it is not at the district court level. That's just a diversion.

It looks like Cracker Barrel has a woke CEO, that is going to destroy the brand if she does not change her ways. They may be listening... they decided to scrap the logo.

Probably the biggest story going so far this week is that in the 30 states that track voter registration by political party, between 2020 and 2024, Democrats shed 2.1 million voters and Republicans gained 2.4 million voters. That's why I say California gerrymandering is not a sure thing to produce the results they want. It could backfire.

They finally handed it down. After 11 months, the Trump appeals court ruling on his fraud conviction. They have thrown out the penalty of $527 million. That was the only thing all the justices could agree on. Everything else they wanted appealed to the Court of Appeals, for further action.

It is so easy to trigger the left. A cop in Washington DC tells a protestor that the keffiyeh she is wearing is culturally misappropriate. She went nuts.

Stephen Miller: "We're going to ignore these stupid white hippies that only go home and take a nap because they're all over 90 years old."

The leftist protesters are now wearing American flags, because they were told to. They just can't figure out why. Then they're also told to burn American flags.

Question? A civil court conviction without a penalty.. is that worth appealing? To most people no, but I think Trump wants total vindication.

Here is a Newsweek story. A nice man, great family, works hard, was detained by ICE while trying to reinstate his green card. That means he let his green card expire. Why else would you be reinstating something unless it expired? Everyone knows you do not allow a green card to expire. A good family man? I think not.

A Washington DC man who was arrested, just said that he wants to be with his family. He has won the hearts of the liberal community. In January 2024 he was arrested for aggravated sexual assault of a child under 13. Love these liberals.

The FED Chairman is signaling a rate cut in September. Another Trump win, if it happens.

As you know, I kept my eye out for appellate court decision on Trump's fraud. It was a 323 page opinion.

My comments on the Cracker Barrel logo. Never ask people who are not going to be your customers what they think of your business. It's like asking vegans what hamburger McDonald's should serve?

I love watching videos of people getting arrested for stupid stuff. They demand a female officer. They can demand all they want , but the law does not allow for it. It's not Burger King and you're not having it your way.

Continuing my rant about people screaming for supervisors when there is no law in any of the 50 states requiring the police to provide a supervisor. Yet these people scream: "Supervisor, supervisor," like it's magic.

Netanyahu: If Israel wanted to commit genocide, we can do it in one afternoon. We have the capacity. The fact that Gaza is still standing, is proof that Israel does not want to commit genocide.

If Donald Trump can solve crime in every one of the major cities in America, America will forgive him if the economy is not as super great as it should be. I think you'll see a lot of forgiveness for a mediocre economy next year, in the midterms, if crime is solved.

The countries that are declaring publicly for HAMAS, are begging Israel for more weapons and technology behind closed doors.

Man: Of course. I really hope you find a cure soon.
