

Trump is Hitler, But He Takes Orders From Israel

I think it's funny that when the police pull a black woman out of the car, there's a good chance that her wig is going to go flying.

I see more posts about Marjorie Taylor Green now that she is out of Congress than I saw when she was in Congress. She is a has-been who never was.

Astonishing video of a Kuwaiti man rushing to the aid of a downed US pilot. He asked, "Are you fine?" and then said, "Don't worry, you are safe."

Trump was asked who is going to be the supreme leader in Iran. Trump's response? "I don't know, I guess the position is open. I'm creating jobs in Iran too."

One of the reasons Trump decided it was time to act on Iran is because somewhere in the next few years Iran will develop a missile that is capable of reaching the US homeland.

Anybody that thinks that Iran was only a threat to Israel, now knows the truth.

Donald Trump about the Iranians: "They tried to get me. I got them first."

One thing that the Iran's attacks against their neighbors has taught us is that drone technology with explosives is a very real threat, and everyone has to learn how to defend against it.

If you're going to counter-protest, wear yellow vests. This will drive the liberals crazy because they're wearing yellow vests.

Iran has two allies left: the UN and the Democrat Party.

Many people are against Israel because we give them US foreign aid. What they have shown is that Israel gives us more intelligence and other information then we give them. In other words, the USA may receive more than we send. Israel just walked through Iran, and America just walked through Iran because of Israeli intelligence. Israel hacked the prayer app in Iran and told Iranians that the time for them to rise up is now.

Israel has hacked all the traffic cameras in Tehran. This gives them extraordinary precision when it comes to bombings.

A woman in a Canadian ER is sitting for 15 hours with appendicitis. I don't know about major cities, but where I am, you'll be seen immediately, and the most we've waited after triage has been one hour.

The Democrat Party's main constituency is made up of college Hamas supporters, illegal aliens, and violent criminals, according to Karoline Leavitt, press secretary.

Iranians are signaling to President Trump that they want to negotiate. Trump's answer: "Too Late."

One of the problems that Iran has is that Al Jazeera, its biggest media pusher, is owned by Qatar, and Qatar is at war now with Iran.

So let me get this straight: Right now in America, there are protesters protesting the death of a man that murdered protesters for protesting.

Iraq invaded Kuwait in August 1990. The Gulf War did not start until 1991. It took that long for the US to build a coalition, and Israel stayed out while Saddam Hussein fired Scud missiles at Israel. Trump did it totally differently. The war started with the US and Israel, and within five days the entire Middle East is fighting on the side of Israel. Just don't tell the Arabs that.

One of the reasons that Netflix dropped its offer to buy Warner Brothers is because Republican congressmen found they had tampons in the men's room. It's not the only reason, but it is a big one.

Spain said the US could not use their military bases. I'm sure Trump called the Prime Minister or the King and said, "Would you like us to announce that Russia can attack you and we will not defend you?" The US can now use Spain's military bases.

How I handle social media posts? I ask a question. They usually do not answer the question. They'll throw out something else. I ask the question again. They may not answer it, but they'll ask a different question. I never answer them — I ask the question again. Usually they disappear. This is better than letting them bounce you all over the place. Stick to the question.

How to get half the Democrats in New York City to vote Republican: Tell them we are dismantling the United Nations and there will no longer be diplomatic plates in New York City. New Yorkers hate the diplomatic plates because they can park anywhere — by hydrants, meters, anywhere.

Qatar has shot down two Iranian jets about to attack the US base there.

One of the side benefits of the Iran war is that it is shutting down the drone production that goes to Russia, which will make it a lot easier on the Ukrainians.

I told you Kristi Noem was going to be kicked out as DHS Secretary, and she has. The affair that she's allegedly having played a large part.

You know things are bad when an Iranian captain surrendered his ship to Sri Lanka. He thought it was either that or be destroyed.

The media makes such a big deal of a resolution on the War Powers Act failing or passing by three votes. The fact is, if they passed both houses, the president could veto, and it takes 67 votes to override it — and that is not happening. Another way the media wastes our time.

Tucker Carlson has put the Jewish organization Chabad in the limelight. I want to point out that there is no central mindset or talking points that come out of Chabad. Every Chabad is independent, and the only connection to any other Chabad is spiritual, based on the teachings of the late Rabbi Menachem Schneerson. Any conspiracies cannot happen because every Chabad is independent. If anyone wants more information, please contact me.

Iran fired a missile at a NATO country, Turkey. Iran has attacked a NATO country.

Tucker Carlson made some wild claim about Chabad owning Israel and rebuilding the Temple. Chabad has about 5,000 emissaries around the world, and everyone knows that nobody owns Donald Trump. As for rebuilding the Temple, that would go against their belief, that God will rebuild the Temple, not man. The fact of the matter is Tucker Carlson is an anti-Semitic bastard, and if the liberals took a shot at him, I would not cry.

What is happening in the Middle East reminds millions, or hundreds of millions, of Arabs that the divide in the Arab world is not between Jews and Muslims, but between fanatics and moderates.

Iran upset the UAE so much because they are taking the brunt of the missiles that the Emirates has frozen Iranian assets. I understand the Iran Revolutionary Guard is paid through the UAE.

In Iran, ceasefire is off the table, and unconditional surrender is the only thing Donald Trump will accept.

Did you hear about the ballot initiative in California? Only US citizens can vote. It has enough signatures to pass the 875,000 signature threshold. Even in California, polls show 71% of US citizens are for this ballot initiative. Today they have 1.3 million signatures.

You notice now that the Arabs are being attacked, they're not telling us about the children in Palestine anymore. They are instead asking Israel, "How do you defend yourself?"

Liberals are always choosing the bad guy because Trump is always on the side of the good guy.

You know all the talk about replacing the US dollar with foreign currency? It's dead.

The fake news on social media is so vast that I now have to check just about anything against ChatGPT just to see if it's legitimate. A trusted source said Kilmar Abrego Garcia was ruled deportable by an immigration court. That's fake news.

Tom Hanks' son is a dual citizen of the United States and Greece. He was coming back to the United States and did not have his passport. This shows he's an idiot, because everyone knows that you need the Greek passport to go to Greece and the US passport to go to the United States. My wife is a dual citizen with Brazil. The Brazil passport gets her into Brazil, and the American passport gets her into the United States. But when you have more money than God, you think the rules don't apply to you.

Qatar says they will expel the Hamas leadership from Qatar because it refused to condemn the Iranian attacks.

Democrats: Trump is Hitler. Also Democrats: Trump is taking orders from Israel.

I will say it again: this is Schumer's shutdown. Shut the New York airports.

Trump has said, and the evidence backs it up, that the missile that hit the girls' school in Iran was Iran's and not the United States.

Meme of the Week: To save money, many Star Trek scenes were actually filmed on Earth rather than on location in outer space.

Bonus Meme of the Week: the Ayatollah asked a fortune teller what day he will die. The fortune teller told him he would die on a Jewish holiday. "Why are you so sure?" the Ayatollah asked. "Any day that you die will be a Jewish holiday," replied the fortune teller.
