

More Americans Die in Chicago in a Weekend Than in a War Zone

They were more Americans killed this weekend in Chicago than in 36 days of war with Iranian terrorists. The greatest threat to the United States is the Democrat's incompetent, evil agenda.

The Board of Peace is giving Hamas until the end of the week to accept a deterrence proposal. The answer would have been "No" any other time, but Qatar doesn't like Hamas, and Iran is on its last legs. And Turkey doesn't understand how the U.S. went to war in the Middle East without talking to them. Trump upset the apple cart.

How do you know the Iranian people are for the war and for regime change? Because Iran has shut down the internet. If people loved the regime, the internet would be wide open.

One of the types of articles I never read is when it says "The internet is exploding." Besides bots, it doesn't matter what some people think. You have to look at the facts in the case, not internet reaction.

Iran agreed to a two-week ceasefire. This is what happens when a strong president says you're going to die if you don't agree to this. Remember, the rank-and-file Muslims go to virgins; the rich Muslims want to stay alive.

Argentina is making noise about taking back the Falklands. I'm old enough to remember the Falklands Islands war between Britain and Argentina. A weak Britain may not have kept the Falklands. This is what happens when you project weakness.

Iran has been yelling: "Death to America" for 47 years. Trump threatens "Death to Iran," and half of America freaks out.

Trump entered the ceasefire without regime change. He never said he would get regime change, because that takes a lot longer. Militarily, Iran has nothing left, and economically the country is a disaster. It may take six months to get rid of the Mullahs, but even then, so many have been killed, so you're getting a different class of Mullahs. They have been bombed into the Stone Age, regardless of what they say.

Did you really think Trump was going to vaporize 90 million people?

We were all ready to protest, and Trump does a ceasefire. Now what do we protest?

Trump is a genocidal maniac with no regard for human life. No wait... he's a spineless coward.

Iran is down to five allies: Keir Starmer, Tucker Carlson, Megyn Kelly, Candace Owens, and Alex Jones.

I'll repeat the golden rule: Trump supporters take him seriously but not literally. TDS-afflicted people take him literally, but not seriously.

People always ask me about a Trump speech. I don't listen to them, except for the State of the Union, because it's a show. With Trump, it does not matter what he says—it matters what he does.

It's amazing that car dealers focus on monthly payments, and so do customers. A basic understanding of math gets you a monthly payment once you get the price of a car. People lose thousands of dollars because they negotiate the monthly payment instead of the price of the car.

If you read Trump's book, "The Art of the Deal," you understand how to negotiate with Trump. The Japanese used to laugh that we always accepted the first offer. Trump's first offer is always a maximalist position.

Let's remember that China was very instrumental in getting Iran to make a deal because China is in much worse shape, and the world now knows that Chinese defense technology does not work.

If a trans person goes missing, do we put the picture on a container of milk or on a container of half-and-half?

I presented this idea during the BLM riots, and it is still good. Conservatives rent an American flag or sign for $1,000 by putting down a deposit. After the rally, they return the flag and get back 98% of their deposit. But if someone steals that flag, it is now a felony and can be prosecuted. That would be fun.

I want to put to bed yelling "fire" in a crowded movie theater. If I say: "I'm going to yell fire, but there is no fire, don't panic"—then I can yell "fire" in a crowded movie theater. It's that simple.

Never understood the concept of extra virgin olive oil. What's the difference between that and regular virgin olive oil? Is there a virginity test?

The leftists are about to change their Iran flags for Lebanon flags. Israel mass-bombs Lebanon, Lebanon plays the victim, and leftists have something to protest.

They're all saying that Lebanon was part of the ceasefire. Like anyone was there.

Can a professor who is a member of the KKK teach on a college campus? The answer would be no. What is the answer about a member of ISIS? Would the Liberals complain?

If World War II were to happen today, the U.S. would surrender to Adolf Hitler.

The Republicans need to run ads during election season—not now—that if Democrats win, we will get blown up, with video showing what explosions look like. Let America feel a war. The problem with young people today, is America has not been in a war since Vietnam. Mention Iraq and Afghanistan and compare the death toll to Vietnam.

Why is Israel bombing the hell out of Lebanon? To send the message that Israel is tired of having rockets sent at it. Mexico would be glass if they did that to us.

Higher-income households get a smaller percentage of tax savings but save more in total. The article makes it sound like a bad thing, but of course—they pay more in taxes.

In Palm Beach County, the difference between Democrats and Republicans is 11,621: 308,121 Democrats and 296,500 Republicans. Still on target to be equal by August.

Netanyahu says unequivocally that if not for the past two operations, Iran would have already acquired nuclear weapons in 2026.

Nut job: No one is illegal on stolen land.

Me: That means no one is legal on stolen land, because authority does not exist.

Nut job: That sounds about right.

Me: I'm sending your name to ICE so they can deport you.

Bye.

Remember: Hezbollah was warned not to join the fight for Iran, but Hezbollah decided to attack Israel anyway. And now that they are dying in battle, they're crying.

Hezbollah officials were afraid to meet in public, knowing they would be bombed, so they met on Zoom. Israel got their IP addresses and dropped 200 precision bombs, killing all their leadership who were safely at home.

A girl sent in a thousand resumes, got her master's degree, studied internationally—and no job offers. Maybe she should have received a real degree, instead of media and international relations.

Why do they put the time when the news is live, but never the date? When you're watching reels, you don't know when they were made—you just know the time.

It's funny that the IRGC is complaining about excessive U.S. demands. The Japanese used to laugh because we took their first offer.

New York State has a new law that nursing homes must go by stated sex versus biological sex. There is a nursing home that does not take government money and says it interferes with their religious freedom, and they are in court to stop it. We will see what happens.

How to get NATO off its butt? Shut down the Strait of Hormuz. Now all NATO countries want to join in because Trump just choked off their oil.

Facts are not determined by a show of hands. — Thomas Sowell

Under Obama and Biden, every time Iran said they would not take the deal, they threw more money at them. Under Trump, the U.S. said, "Okay, goodbye." Iran was not ready for that. They are now ready to go back to the table. Trump, in classic negotiating fashion says, we're not in a rush. This will be the only negotiation in modern-day Iran, where they lose.

Eric Swalwell resigned from Congress, so did Tony Gonzales. This keeps the Republican and Democratic split exactly the same place.

Amazing what happens when you walk away from negotiations and then blockade the oil of a country that has only one real moneymaker—oil. Iran is now begging for a deal.

I believe the next deal will include payment to the United States to cover the cost of the war.

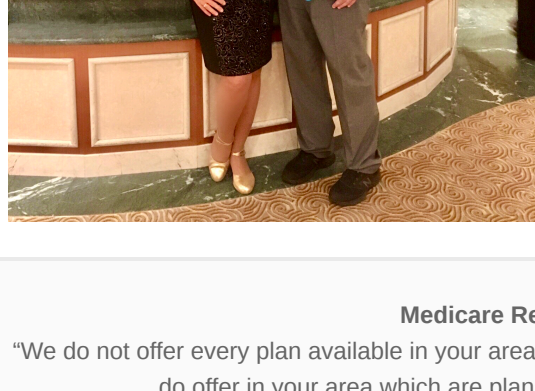

For the first time in 33 years, Lebanon and Israel are having in-person negotiations with Marco Rubio. This is because of the strength Israel has shown by blowing the hell out of Hezbollah.

Meme of the week:
Doctor: Your husband needs peace and quiet, so I'm prescribing a sedative.
Wife: When should he take it?
Doctor: Never—you're the one who's going to take it.
